

WOULD STOP THE TOURISTS

Atkinson Tells of Hundreds Passing Honolulu By—Singing of Hawaiian Boats Lovers Lane of Atlantic City.

Jack Atkinson made a strong talk to the Promotion Committee at yesterday afternoon's meeting for some arrangement to be made whereby tourists from the Orient could stop over here and continue their voyage to San Francisco by one of the local steamers without the necessity of waiting for a steamer of the Pacific Mail company.

He said that throughout Japan the steamship agents and Cook's people all told tourists not to stop here, that no accommodations could be promised them if they took a lay-over at Honolulu, and that there was nothing much to see here anyway.

Fifty people on the Chiyo would have stayed here if they had known about things here when they left Yokohama on the trip that brought our Jack back to Hawaii net. They were discouraged there from any thought of staying over here.

Jack suggests that a branch of Cook's be opened here and in that way the whole of the Cook system will be in line to boost Honolulu.

This matter was taken up with the London office of Cook's, who referred it to New York, and New York referred it to San Francisco, R. H. Trent being the man who took it up on his recent trip.

With the reported break with the T. K. K. which has occurred, Jack thought the Pacific Mail might consider favorably some plan of an interchange of tickets with the local lines. It has never been possible in the past with the two lines, as it was reported that Schwerin told the Matson people he wouldn't ask his passengers to ride on freight boats.

"These people are right here in the harbor and passing us by all the time," said Jack. "It is a pity we can't corral those within our borders for a few days to make the volcano trip, when we are going half way around the world to bring scattered tourists here. On these steamers we have them in bunches, and yet they get by us."

"Honolulu has done much to help the Pacific Mail in building wharves and perfecting a good harbor, and it is now about time the Pacific Mail did something for Honolulu," was the opinion of Atkinson.

The point was brought up that officers of Pacific Mail boats always had had hammers out for Honolulu, because they said that Honolulu had hammers out for the Pacific Mail. Many a time, it was stated, tourists were prevented from staying here at the last moment by unfavorable comment by one of the officers of the steamer upon which they were traveling.

W. H. Baugh, who came before the committee on behalf of Hawaiian coffee and pineapples, said in his remarks the same thing of Coast agents as Atkinson said of those in the Orient. They either knew nothing of Honolulu, or if they did they kept their information to themselves instead of giving it to intending passengers.

From Atlantic City came a wall in the shape of a letter from the manager of the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel, who said that the Hawaiian boys were not musical and forbade Wood to have them sing any more, as the singing lowered the tone of the community and made the hotel more like a cheap restaurant than like the exclusive place that it really was. In the warm weather, the manager told Mr. Wood, the music drifted in from the exhibit over the transoms of the rooms in the hotel, making anything but a pleasant effect.

J. J. White of the hotel company was the signer of the letter, and he sure must have had a grouch on when he wrote explaining why he refused Wood the privilege of having the music given in the Hawaiian exhibit.

In a letter dated July 13, Secretary Wood stated that business had fallen off some and would be that way until after the sixteenth, when it would pick up for two months. He was optimistic in his views of the good accomplished by the exhibit, and publicity which the islands had obtained through Atlantic City, and told of several European trips thrown over in favor of trips to Hawaii on information given by himself.

As to the financial end of the experiment, it was of great value to the islands, but there would be no direct return from it this year, in his opinion. Another year would be necessary before direct returns could be looked for.

Pineapple juice was the coming drink, he said, throughout the East, and the future of this industry was assured.

The Arizona Gazette, printed at Phoenix, has written to the Promotion Committee of a trip to be taken by subscribers of that paper to Honolulu. Enclosed was a letter sent

WOULD HELP BAD BOYS

Governor Frear Brings Home Ideas From Successful Eastern Institutions—Accommodations and Food According to Behavior.

While Governor Frear was on the mainland he looked into the workings of an institution which is known as the George Junior Republic. It is in reality an industrial school for bad boys.

Its workings have proved a success and the Governor is of the opinion that if such a method was inaugurated in the Boys' Industrial School at Waialeale it would prove a big step in the right direction.

The boys, Governor Frear says, are encouraged to work, and upon their industry depends their comfort. If they are lazy, their food and accommodations are comparatively poor. If they are industrious, they are able to afford better quarters and better fare.

While it is true that this system is in effect in a small way in our local institutions of reformation Governor Frear thinks that the system could be enlarged upon and the results would show wonders.

DANCE, SMOKE AND LUAU
FOR VISITING YACHTSMEN

Crews to Have Good Time Saturday, Monday and Tuesday—A Huge Crowd to Attend Ball.

Yesterday afternoon the crew of the Sweetheart were taken down to Oahu mill, and shown all over the big factory where the sugar that most of the mainland yachtsmen use is made. The visitors were much interested in the process and listened to all the explanations with great attention.

The crew of the Mollitout went down to Pearl Harbor in the latest addition to the local yacht fleet. The Mollitout behaved beautifully, and the trip around the lochs was much enjoyed. Commodore Ward, Judge Dole and Charles Wilder went on the cruise and the beauties of Pearl Harbor were pointed out to the visitor.

Tomorrow night at the Moana Hotel the ball of the year will be given in honor of the visiting yachtsmen, and over six hundred invitations have been sent out to all the society folk.

The Myrtle Boat Club will give a smoker on Monday night and it promises to be one of the most pleasant features of the stay of the visiting yachtsmen in our midst.

On Tuesday, August 2, a grand luau will be given at the Seaside Hotel, and during the evening the distribution of prizes won in the trans-Pacific race will be made. The officers of the Hawaii Yacht Club are in charge of the affair, and it promises to be a huge success. Invitations are being sent out and a big attendance is expected.

WASEDAS TO VISIT
HAWAII AND MAUI

Japanese Will Show the Big Island Players What They Can Do on the Diamond.

As soon as the present series of the Wasedas is finished in Honolulu, the team will pay a visit to Hawaii and Maui, and the Japanese residents of those islands will be able to see their countrymen in action. The Wasedas will leave Honolulu on Tuesday, August 9, and will go direct to the volcano.

On their return from the volcano they will play three games with the pick of the Hilo teams and a great trio of matches is expected. From Hilo they will go to Kailua, Maui, and there they will tackle the flower of the Valley Island at baseball.

On August 29 the Wasedas will play another game in Honolulu, and on August 23 they will leave for Japan. The St. Louis College nine is anxious to play a game with the Wasedas before the Japanese leave and there may be a chance of seeing the match come off.
